

Big Box Backgrounder: A Former Saskatoon Councillor Discusses the Perils of Big Box Development

Sunday, 30 July 2006

Last Updated Sunday, 07 January 2007

Making the Links' Peter Garden interviews former Saskatoon City Councillor Lenore Swystun about Saskatoon city planning in relation to big box developments. Lenore Swystun discusses the history of big box development in Saskatoon and the questionable conduct of our current city council in hastily approving the building of new complexes.

{enclose big-box-background.mp3}

To get more information or to get involved, learn about the campaign against further big box development in Saskatoon go the the website of the Campaign to Stop the Stonegate Development.